

Bad Ragaz Hall & Biergarten opens its doors with new concept and new pagers for restaurants from HME Wireless

ATLANTA, GA — January 13, 2014 — The newly opened Bad Ragaz Hall & Biergarten in Boynton Beach, FL has called on a restaurant paging system from HME Wireless to enhance its customers' experience. Bad Ragaz combines the European concept of self-service table taps with an upscale atmosphere and fine food.

Bad Ragaz owner Alessandar Silvestri first came across pagers for restaurants at Disney World, where he noticed how operators were better able to manage their wait times and keep waiting guests satisfied.

“I asked one of the restaurants if the guest pagers were reliable,” said Silvestri. “They said yes, so I thought if it’s good enough for Disney, it’s good enough for me.”

At Bad Ragaz, the novelty of self-service table taps is complemented by an expansive beer selection, great wine and mouth-watering food. Enhancing the experience is a new restaurant paging system from HME Wireless.

“This is the first time I’ve used pagers for restaurants,” said Silvestri. “The HME guest pagers are durable and reliable ... they’ve been great!”

“Bad Ragaz is an exciting new concept for South Florida and HME Wireless is proud to support their opening with our innovative technology and helpful people,” said Russ Ford, Vice President of HME Wireless.
