HME EXPANDS INTERNATIONAL PRESENCE, OPENING SERVICE CENTER IN EUROPE

Full-service factory authorized repair facility begins operation in Holland to support HME Pro Audio distributors and customers throughout Europe and the Middle East.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. January 12, 2007 — HME, the leading provider of professional wireless intercoms, recently announced the appointment of Flucon B.V. as an authorized European service center in Alphen aan den Rijn, The Netherlands.

Founded in 1982, Flucon has provided sales and service support in many industries since their start in Holland in 1988. Flucon is a leader in wireless systems repair specializing in audio systems for professional and broadcasting markets and offers full support and services. They offer in and out-of-warranty repairs, provide 2-day turnaround, and can support mail-in repairs from all European and Middle East countries.

“HME is thrilled to have Flucon as an international service center,” said Mike Hughes, the Professional Audio Division VP & General Manager. “Outstanding service is one of the keys to our success and Flucon has proven themselves as the most qualified and experienced company to service HME and our award winning wireless communication systems.”

HME is a leading provider of customer-focused solutions to enhance the performance and productivity of businesses in a variety of markets. Incorporated in 1971, HME was a pioneer in the development of the first wireless intercom system for the pro-audio industry. With award-winning products such as the PRO850 Wireless Intercom and the DX Series of Digital Intercoms HME develops and delivers customer-driven solutions to over 80 countries worldwide.
