CLEAR-COM DESIGNATES RGB BROADCASTING AS DISTRIBUTOR IN INDIA

ALAMEDA, USA – APRIL 04, 2016 — Clear-Com[®] a global leader in real-time communication solutions, has announced that RGB Broadcasting, one of the leading broadcast solution providers in India, signed an agreement to be a Clear-Com distributor to manage channel activities in the vast country.

As a Clear-Com distributor, RGB Broadcasting will provide dealer support for customer-related issues and inventory management for Clear-Com's dealer network. It will also provide clients with the full range of Clear-Com's award-winning professional intercom and connectivity solutions, which include the Encore Analog Partyline and HelixNet Digital Partyline Systems, Eclipse HX matrix family, Agent-IC mobile app, FreeSpeak II and DX Series wireless solutions, as well as the LQ IP Interfaces and ProGrid and MUX-22-CC Signal Transport Solutions.

“By expanding our partnership with RGB Broadcasting, we gain not only broader exposure of our communication solutions to broadcast clients, but also the ability to leverage the company's extensive experience in the broadcast industry, from design to equipment purchase, installation, integration and support,” said Ann Williams, Director of Asia Sales for Clear-Com. “RGB Broadcasting is a solid company with an excellent reputation within the industry, and we believe this expanded relationship will open significant opportunities for both companies.”

“Working together, Clear-Com and RGB Broadcasting will be able to offer a high-level, in-country service to dealers and customers alike, allowing for even better cooperation and support across the region,” said Shiju George, Director of Sales, RGB Broadcasting. “We are happy to have Clear-Com as part of our product portfolio to offer to our customers.”
