

St. Andrews United Methodist Church calls on nursery paging system from HME Wireless to enhance parents' church experience

ATLANTA, GA — December 19, 2013— St. Andrews United Methodist Church is now using a church paging system from HME Wireless to better manage its nursery program and offer worshipping parents peace of mind.

With a congregation of over 200, the church has many families depending on its nursery for child care. Nursery pagers from HME Wireless give parents confidence that they can be reached at any time during services, and are a critical part of enhancing the worship experience.

“We are very pleased with the nursery pagers,” said church treasurer Jody Gillum. “We sometimes need to contact parents during service, and the vibration of the page doesn’t make any noise. It’s perfect.”

St. Andrews also attracts lots of moms with children for their women’s bible studies, where the nursery paging system sees a lot of use. Jody noted that the church looked at five different pager systems before choosing the HME nursery pagers.

“We liked the candy bar shape of the HME pagers and that they were all one piece,” said Gillum. “They seemed more durable.”

“The fact that St. Andrews United Methodist Church has trusted us to help take care of their members’ children is a testament to the quality of both our people and our technology,” said Russ Ford, Vice President of HME Wireless.
